Medically Necessary: Health care services or supplies that a physician or other health care provider exercising prudent clinical judgment, would provide to you for the purpose of preventing, evaluating, diagnosing or treating an illness, injury, disease or its symptoms and that are: In accordance with generally accepted standards of medical practice; clinically appropriate, in terms of type, frequency, extent, site and duration, and considered effective for your illness, injury or disease; and not primarily for the convenience of you, or your physician or other health care provider, and not more costly than an alternative service or sequence of services, or supply at least as likely to produce equivalent therapeutic or diagnostic results as to the diagnosis or treatment of your illness, injury or disease. For these purposes, "generally accepted standards of medical practice" means standards that are based on credible scientific evidence published in peer-reviewed medical literature generally recognized by the relevant medical community, Physician Specialty Society recommendations and the views of the physicians practicing in relevant clinical areas and other relevant factors.
