

AARP® Essential Premier Health Insurance Plans for Individuals, Families and the Self-Employed, Insured by Aetna

New provisions effective September 23, 2010

This information is an addition to the printed materials you received.

The federal health care reform legislation, known as the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, was signed into law on March 23, 2010, by President Obama.

The following health care reform changes are effective on September 23, 2010:

- Dependent children up to age 26 are allowed coverage.
- Annual dollar limits for essential benefits will no longer be allowed (for example, the ambulance benefit will no longer have a per-trip maximum).
- Plans will now have an unlimited lifetime maximum.
- Copay and coinsurance obligations will be removed for in-network preventive services (that is, the $200 physical exam maximum will be eliminated).
- Dependent children (under 19 years of age) can no longer be denied because of a pre-existing condition.

Some previously printed materials do not reflect these changes. However, the new provisions are in effect for plans with an effective date on or after September 23, 2010. Your AARP Essential Premier Health Insurance Plan, insured by Aetna, complies with the new federal health care reform legislation.

Please note, in addition to health care reform changes, plans that cover only children are no longer available.

Coverage for a better life

Why did AARP choose Aetna as one of its health benefits insurers for AARP members? Because there are so many advantages for you. With over 150 years of experience, Aetna offers an outstanding combination of quality coverage and affordable rates, as well as innovative technologies to help you make more informed health care decisions.

Aetna's diverse offerings provide AARP members a wider range of health insurance plans, with different price points and coverage levels. With AARP Essential Premier Health Insurance, you can choose from quality "Premier" plans or affordable "Preventive and Hospital Care" plans. You can even apply for coverage for not only yourself, but your spouse or domestic partner, children and grandchildren as well.

Tax advantages, too

If you value tax savings, you may consider "High Deductible" plans compatible with Health Savings Accounts (HSAs). These "tax-advantaged" plans allow you or eligible family members to make contributions to your HSA tax-free. Those contributions earn interest tax-free, and your withdrawals for medical expenses (including health insurance premiums for sole proprietors) are tax-free as well.

Make informed choices

Aetna prides itself on being upfront and honest about provider pricing and quality, showing you online the actual negotiated rates paid to network doctors and other health care providers. The company also provides online clinical and quality efficiency ratings for physicians, specialists and hospitals in its network. This allows you to make informed choices about who provides your medical care. (Cost and quality information is not available in all areas.)

You're covered wherever you go

Do you travel? Wherever you go, throughout all 50 states, a nationwide network of doctors and hospitals has you covered. This is important to any AARP member who's interested in vacationing and traveling within the U.S.

Online help and information

Other important member benefits include Internet access to reliable health information and Aetna Navigator™, a secure, award-winning website for understanding and managing your health benefits.

Tips on selecting AARP Essential Premier Health Insurance

Looking for a few pointers on selecting a plan? As you're evaluating health insurance coverage, here are some tips to help you choose the right plan for your unique situation and priorities.

This chart may be a good starting point for you. Look for your priority on the left, and match it up with some suggested plans on the right. (You'll find descriptions of all these plans on the next page.)

If you...	Consider...
Need an affordable policy with low monthly payments...	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Premier $2500 or $5000• High Deductible $3000 or $5000• Preventive and Hospital Care $1250 or $3000
Use only basic health care services and want to keep your monthly payments low...	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Premier $5000• Preventive and Hospital Care $1250 or $3000
Don't want to pay a lot for frequent doctor visits...	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Premier $1500
Want a balance of lower cost and quality coverage...	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Premier $1500 or $2500
Want to cap the amount you'll spend on total medical expenses each year...	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Premier $1500
Want a plan that works with a tax-advantaged Health Savings Account (see page 7 for an explanation of HSAs)...	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• High Deductible $3000 or $5000• Preventive and Hospital Care $3000
Think robust coverage is more important than the lowest possible cost...	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Premier $1500

A few things to keep in mind

- Generally speaking, the lower your "premiums," or monthly payments, the higher your "deductible," which is the amount you pay out-of-pocket before the plan begins paying for expenses. (Lower premiums also mean a higher "copay," which is the amount you pay out-of-pocket at doctor visits, hospital stays, etc.)
- The lower your deductible the higher your monthly premiums will be.
- You'll pay less by using "in-network" doctors, hospitals, pharmacies and other health care providers who participate in the plan's vast nationwide network than by using "out-of-network" doctors.
- If any of the terminology in this brochure is confusing to you, visit www.planforyourhealth.com, or see the Glossary on page 16 for an in-depth list of terms and what they mean.
- AARP Essential Premier Health Insurance plans, insured by Aetna, are medically underwritten. See page 12 for details.

Choose the plan that best fits your needs

A variety of AARP Essential Premier Health Insurance plans are available in your state. All of these plans give you the freedom to go directly to any physician, hospital or specialist for covered services.

What type of coverage do you need?

Your plan choices are:

- Premier Plans
- Preventive and Hospital Care Plans
- High Deductible (HSA Compatible) Plans

Premier Plans

Premier Plans give you:

- An excellent combination of quality coverage and affordable premiums
- The freedom to seek health care when needed, and the flexibility to access care in or out-of-network
- No claim forms to fill out when you use a network provider, and no referrals are required to see a specialist.

Premier Plans are available with three levels of annual deductibles: $1500, $2500 and $5000.

Preventive and Hospital Care Plans

Our Preventive and Hospital Care Plans — available with annual deductibles of $1250 or $3000 — are ideal if you're primarily looking for affordability when selecting a coverage option. Instead of hospitalization, these plans provide inpatient hospital coverage coupled with limited benefits for outpatient surgery, skilled nursing or home health care charges.

These plans also provide coverage for preventive care, including an annual GYN exam, well child care and physical exam. The deductible applies to most covered expenses. (NOTE: This plan provides limited benefits only and does not constitute a premier health insurance plan. It may not cover all expenses associated with your health care needs.)

High Deductible (HSA Compatible) Plans

A key advantage of a High Deductible Plan is it can be paired with a Health Savings Account (HSA), a special account that lets you pay for qualified medical expenses with tax-advantaged funds.

What does "tax-advantaged" mean? It means you or an eligible family member can contribute to your HSA tax-free. Those dollars earn interest tax-free. And when you make withdrawals to pay for qualified health care expenses, they're tax-free, too.

Dependent Coverage

All of AARP's Essential Premier Health Insurance plans in your state are available for Child Only, which means you can enroll a dependent child even if no other family member enrolls. Coverage includes immunizations, well child visits and emergency room visits. (NOTE: if you choose one of the HSA plans for Child Only, an HSA account is not available for the child.)

About HSAs...

A Health Savings Account, or HSA, is a personal account that lets you pay for qualified medical expenses with tax-advantaged funds. You or an eligible family member make contributions to your HSA tax-free, and those dollars earn interest tax-free. Then, when you make withdrawals from your account to pay for qualified health care expenses, they're tax-free, too.

An HSA has other advantages as well.

Among them:

- You own your HSA, so even if you change jobs or health insurance plans, the money in your account is yours to keep.
- Any money remaining in your HSA at the end of the year rolls over to the next year. Unlike flexible spending accounts, the money is yours to keep. You never lose it.
- You can withdraw money directly from your HSA to cover qualified expenses. Or, you can allow the account to grow over time and use it to help pay for future health-related expenses — like long-term care insurance premiums, COBRA premiums and certain retiree expenses.

To establish a Health Savings Account...

First apply for an HSA-compatible High Deductible Health Plan. Then request HSA application materials by calling 1-866-660-4081 or visiting www.aarphealthcare.com/aetna to view and download the materials.

- A child for whom legal guardianship has been awarded to the AARP member
- A relative of the AARP member by blood or marriage.

 The applicant enrolling for Individual coverage is considered to have prior creditable coverage if the lapse between the prior coverage termination date and signature date on the application is NOT greater than 63 days. Prior creditable coverage does not guarantee acceptance into the AARP Essential Premier Health Insurance Plan, insured by Aetna. Plans are medically underwritten and all applicants must submit a completed application. If the applicant has prior creditable coverage within 63 days immediately before the signature date on the application, then the pre-existing conditions exclusion of the plan will be waived.

Limitations and exclusions

Glossary

Here are a few definitions of terms used throughout this brochure. For a more in-depth list, please visit www.planforyourhealth.com.

COBRA (Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985): Some employers are mandated by law to offer employees who have been let go the option to continue their health coverage for up to 18 months. The employee will pay the full premium, up to 102% of the employer's cost (the extra 2% is the administration fee). You have 63 days to enroll, and when you do, coverage is retroactive. Remember, COBRA covers ALL members of your family from the date of termination, so if your spouse or domestic partner has a pre-existing condition that a new, cheaper policy might not cover, you can elect to keep COBRA for him or her. If you're considering COBRA, be sure to get more information from your employer — and remember, coverage only lasts 18 months.

Coinsurance: These are costs you pay after you've met your deductible. Coinsurance is usually a percentage of medical expenses. For example, many insurance companies pay 80% of medical costs and ask you to pay the remaining 20% — that 20% is your coinsurance.

Copays: Copays are usually fixed amounts you pay for a product or service, like a $10 copay for doctor's visits or prescription drugs. Often, copays are unlimited. For example, even if you've met your deductible, you'll still have a $10 copay for doctor's visits.

Deductible: A fixed yearly amount that you pay before the benefits of your plan policy start. Typically, the higher your deductible, the lower your monthly premium.

HSA (Health Savings Account): A tax-advantaged savings plan (a financial account with various restrictions) that helps cover current and future medical expenses.

Lifetime Maximum: The total amount of benefits an individual may receive or the limited number of particular services an individual may receive over the term of the policy.

“Look-Back” Period: When you enroll for health insurance, you must report any medical conditions for which you have been diagnosed or treated during the “look-back” period. For example, if a company has a five-year “look-back” period, you have to report conditions you had treated in the last five years. Based on your answers, you’ll either be accepted, denied, or accepted with a pre-existing condition “waiting period” — the time you must wait before your pre-existing conditions can be covered.

Out-of-Pocket Maximums: After you meet your deductible, this is the most coinsurance you can pay in a single year. Out-of-pocket maximums may or may not apply to small copay amounts.

Pre-existing Conditions: Any physical or mental condition you’ve been diagnosed or treated for prior to the effective date of health insurance coverage (the day your coverage begins).

Premium: The amount you pay for coverage, usually paid in monthly installments.

Primary Care Physician: A primary care physician provides, coordinates, or arranges for care to patients, and takes continuing responsibility for providing a patient’s care.

Referrals: The recommendation by a physician and/or health plan for a covered person to receive care from a different physician, specialist, or facility.

Specialist: A physician who has completed an approved residency, passed an examination given by a medical specialty board, and has been certified as a specialist in a medical area.

Underwriting: The process insurance companies use to evaluate the costs of insuring you and determining if you’re eligible for coverage. It can involve asking medical questions or requiring health exams. If you are eligible for coverage and multiple rate levels exist, your rate level will be assigned based on this underwriting.
